A Big Dam Across D. C. C. Is Now Under Construction

A Fourth Effort to Solve the Water Problem Involves An Expenditure of $234,000.00

The successful contractors, Coke & Braden, of Amarillo, with construction Superintendent L. P. Galvin, also of Amarillo, Federal resident engineer and inspector, Frank J. Martin, of New York, and City Engineer French, are all now on the grounds on Dry California Creek, about four miles (as the bee flies) south-east of Hamlin with all hands to the 'wheels' creating Hamlin's fourth water project.

It is a huge project, and every engineer says it should be a great success.

Have you seen the ponderous, gigantic, massive, war-like implements of construction that Coke & Braden have out there? From the appearance of the grounds, one would think war is about to start and the great caterpillar tractors are shaping things for a last stand.

Some Hamlin community people may have observed that men had been cutting off the mesquite trees and brush. Last week the contractors started a massive push-like scraper powered by a great caterpillar tractor to "pushing" out or off the stumps and leveling down the landscape. This is a wonder within itself. This cleaning process will continue till the entire water area will be cleaned.

Fences, homes, outbuildings, and even fine wells of water are passing under the construction upheaval. There are more than 1000 acres of lands involved.

LET'S FIGURE HOW BIG

The plans call for the construction of a dam across Dry California Creek, just north of the road that leads to the Carlton School. This dam will rise 28 feet high. It will have a length of 6,600 feet and will be 150 feet wide at the bottom spread and a top width of 20 feet. This dam will create a reservoir 4,200 feet wide and 4,150 long. Over this territory an average water depth of 4.74 feet will be possible and the acre feet will amount to 1,900, which means enough water to cover 1,900 acres to a depth of ONE foot. The dam is designed to provide as much as 300 acre-feet of water for Hamlin's use per year. There will probably be a deep water area of several hundred acres as deep as 20 feet or more.

This dam will contain no concrete except that necessary for the outlet conduit. It will have a central core of wetted and rolled earth. Engineers say the nature of the clay enables this style of construction to hold any amount of water through any kind of varying weather conditions. Estimates of the quality of water is that it will be about as soft as any surface water possible in this part of Texas. The drainage area covers about 35 square miles, and is of a sand-red clay formation, with no trace of gypsum. Ample natural spill-ways will be provided at both ends of the long dam to care for any flood waters in excess of the dam.

Hamlin people are building high hopes on this project. It has been a long dream and desire of a few of Hamlin's citizens to have this stream stopped to provide water for Hamlin. To see those ponderous machines out there pulling and pushing earth for the dam is almost beyond belief. The contractors have two or three mighty scrapers that are powered by caterpillar tractors so as to push and pull, and each trip they dig up and deposit 12 cubic yards of earth.

The temporary dam thrown across the creek south of the bridge is for catching water to use in the construction. Lets hope it rains enough to make good crops but not so much as to wash away the dam as fast as they build it up.

MRS. A. A. BOWMAN DIED MONDAY NIGHT

Monday evening about six o'clock, the family of Mrs. A. A. Bowman, in South Hamlin were shocked by her sudden critical illness. A doctor was called but death came at 8:45.

Mrs. Bowman had been in failing health for about three years. She was 76 years, 5 months and 18 days of age. She was born near Water Valley, Mississippi, on October 23, 1862. Her maiden name was Sally Early. At the age of 19, she was an orphan and came to Collin County, Texas, to live with a sister, Mrs. Amanda Langston. One year later, June 14, 1882, she was united in marriage to A. A. Bowman, who survives. To this union there were ten children, nine of whom are living, namely: George T. Bowman, of Wichita Falls, Texas; J. B. and G. G. Bowman of Hamlin; Mrs. Joe Wheeler, Borger, Texas; Mrs. John Martin, Throckmorton, Texas; Mrs. James Shandley, Palo Verda, Arizona; Mrs. Sterling Harper, Martinville, Va.; Mrs. Lester Campbell, Sherman, Texas, and Mrs. W. P. Rinehart, Ed Couch, Texas.

Mrs. Bowman had one living sister, Mrs. Frank Loyd, of Houston, Louisiana. She and one niece and two nephews came for the funeral. There are 45 grandchildren. All of the children were able to attend the funeral except the daughter living in Virginia and the daughter who lives in Arizona.

Darest Williams, wife and son, formerly of Blue Ridge, in Collin County, a nephew of Mr. Bowman, but at present of Hamlin, were also present for the funeral.

Mrs. Bowman was a very devoted Christian woman, a faithful companion and a loving mother. She had held membership in two churches, the Methodist and the Church of the Nazarene, but at the time of death she had not placed her letter.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church at 3:00 P. M. Wednesday, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Hanks of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Rutherford, pastor of the Nazarene Church.

The pallbearers were grandsons and the flower girls were granddaughters of the deceased.

Interment was in East Cemetery, under the direction of the Barrow Company.

MRS. JOHN L. EAKIN DIED LAST FRIDAY

Following a very short illness, Mrs. John L. Eakin, a citizen of Jones county for 43 years, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Forrest Boyd, on Jackson Avenue Friday evening, April 7, at seven o'clock.

Mrs. Eakin was 79 years, 4 months and 29 days of age. She was born in Greenville, Tenn., November 9, 1859. She came with her parents soon after the Civil War, to Hunt County, Texas, and was married to J. L. Eakin at Cumby, Texas in 1876.

The husband of Mrs. Eakin passed away some years ago and there are four children surviving: Mrs. Forrest Boyd, and J. B. Eakin of Hamlin; T. C. Eakin of Sweetwater, and Mrs. Joe L. Prowell of Clovis, New Mexico. All children had been with their mother several days before her death. There are eleven grandchildren.

Mrs. Eakin and husband came to Jones County in 1896 and lived continually in this community, either on their farm or in Hamlin. She was a lovable Christian character, a member of the Baptist Church, and admired by all who knew her.

Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. J. Henry Littleton, in the presence of a host of relatives and close friends and neighbors. The bountiful floral offerings were evidence of the esteem and love in the hearts of everyone, and a tribute to a long and noble life of a devoted Christian mother.

The Barrow Company had charge of interment, and the remains were placed to rest in the Neinda Cemetery.

LAUGH CLOWN

It's coming! What The annual senior play. Is it good? Yes, it has everything: comedy, drama, murder, and the theft of a forty-thousand dollar diamond. The plot is further complicated by a doctor who never practices medicine, two ex-convicts who determine to "go straight," the doctor's ex-wife and the "accidental" drowning of the gardener. You will laugh at Uncle Joe, the colored handy-man, who is trying to save up five dollars and fifty cents so that he can propose to the light of his life, Aunt Sue. You will shiver with fright as Uncle Joe does when you see the ghosts and spirits with which he becomes entangled.

You must not miss LAUGH CLOWN. It gives promise of being the funniest, the daffiest and the most entertaining play ever presented by a senior class of Hamlin High School. You will have to come in order to find out how the hero solves all of the mystery and wins his lady fair. You will laugh when you see LAUGH CLOWN presented in the high school auditorium, April 28, at 8:15 P. M.

HAMLIN GIRL GETS PROMOTION IN LINCOLN HOSPITAL

The Herald is always glad to learn of the success of Hamlin young women and young men. Just the past week we met Chas. E. Young, a prominent farmer of the Boyd Chapel community, and inquiry of him caused us to learn that his daughter, Miss Pauline Young, had been promoted to the position of head anesthetist in the Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln, Neb.

Miss Young accepted a position in that institution the first of January, as an anesthetist. Last week she reported her promotion. Miss Young graduated from the nursing school of the Stamford Hospital in 1934. She spent about a year and a half with Dr. Turner Bynum in the Hamlin Hospital, and later over two years in the Texarkana Hospital and then took a special course in anesthesia in the Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, and was immediately given a position in the Bryan Memorial Hospital, in Nebraska.

WAR CLOUDS ARE MORE THREATENING THAN RAIN CLOUDS

It looks like war in Europe these days. It is almost a parallel of the summer of 1914, 25 years ago. Except that now it seems Germany and Italy are trying to steal the territory of several smaller nations.

Nobody need be fooled about this nation. Americans are lovers of justice, down to the smallest boy. Therefore any major conflict will see this country doing all in its power, and maybe actually fighting to stop the big bullies and take a new hitch on the world. Next time the United States takes a hand it will stay in there and tie the knot so tight that a similar situation can not develop. Had we done that by the League of Nations and stood pat to put teeth in the set up, the world would be tranquil and prosperous in 1939.

URGES COTTON BAGGING INSTEAD OF JUTE

Editor Hamlin Herald,
Hamlin, Texas.
Dear Mr. Pope:

Referring to a note in a recent issue about the advantages in the use of cotton bagging over jute bagging in the wrapping of cotton bales, may I be permitted to cite the following arguments in favor of cotton bagging over jute bagging.

First, this would result in a greater home consumption of cotton, a necessity since we continue to lose our foreign markets.

Second, jute is imported duty free into our country in competition with cotton which we raise here.

Third, cotton is cheaper than jute.

Fourth, cotton is stronger in tensile strength than jute.

Fifth, jute is more highly inflammable than is cotton, therefore the use of cotton bagging will reduce the fire hazard.

Sixth, no country in the world puts out as disreputable cotton bales as we do and foreign cotton mills have urged that we use cotton bagging on bales for the reason that tons of cotton are lost at the mills in the cleaning process because jute can not be entirely eradicated from the cotton which wraps it.

Seventh, an additional 65c per bale is loaned on cotton by the Commodity Credit Corporation when the bale is wrapped with ¾ pound standard cotton bagging.

Eighth, mills representing over 9½ million spindles and some of the largest cotton buyers, agreed to pay for 7½ pounds extra for cotton wrapped with cotton bagging.

Ninth, on the basis of an extra 65c a bale loan value on cotton wrapped with cotton bagging the cotton farmers in Jones County, for the seasons 1937-38, would have been allowed an additional $67,003.30 besides helping use their own product.

G. D. TRIPLETT,
Manager Anson Chamber of Commerce.

Directors of the Anson Chamber of Commerce in a meeting Thursday night, have decided to sponsor a campaign to introduce the wrapping of cotton bales in cotton bagging in Jones County, instead of jute bagging.

Several ginners, already contacted, have expressed themselves as favorable to the plan, if the farmers are favorable.

There are a number of reasons why this plan will be better than the old plan and the cooperation of the Hamlin and Stamford chambers are to be asked in putting this through in the county.

Resolutions recently passed by the Jones County Federation of Women's Clubs will also be used and the club has promised their whole hearted cooperation in the campaign.

Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Lowell Ballew and Miss Geneva Albritton as hostesses.

Decorations arranged for the party placed emphasis upon a color scheme of pink orchid and blue. Spring flowers chosen to accentuate these shades were schizanthus and sweet peas intermingled with bridal wreath and greenery.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Lowell Ballew who presented each arrival to members of the receiving line including Mmes. W. R. Calhoun, Weldon Johnson, E. F. Fahey and Robert S. Johnson.

Miss Geneva Albritton invited guests into the dining room where Mrs. W. A. Albritton and Mrs. Q. Martin poured tea. EASTERN STAR HONORS MISS MINA FAYE COTTEN

The Eastern Star Chapter entertained in the Masonic Hall, Tuesday evening with a delightful party and miscellaneous shower, complimenting one of their members, Miss Mina Faye Cotten, bride elect of Cecil Eivens, of Lubbock.

Colors of white and orchid were chosen for decorations and repeated in the attractive refreshment plate. In the room where gifts were displayed a white umbrella was suspended from the light, and from this streamers of white and orchid reached to the corners of a table loaded with lovely gifts, and centered with a large bowl filled with bridal wreath and pink and cream rose buds.

The formal receiving line was composed of Mrs. Craig Elmore, Mr. Ira Clements, the honoree, Miss Cotten, and Miss Eivens, of McCauley, sister of the groom.

The program was opened with a piano solo by Miss Anita Anderson. An appropriate reading was given by little Miss Beverly Ann Harvey after which Mrs. Gordon Bennett gave a toast to the bride and Miss Pearl Hudson a toast to the girls left behind. As Miss Edwina Gilbert played the wedding march, the honoree was asked to follow a string which began at the chair where she was seated, and led through various parts of the hall to the door of the room where gifts were displayed.

The names of sixty-five guests were registered in the lovely hand made bride's book which was in charge of Mrs. Ira Clements. The announcement, "Nina and Cecil," was made on small white cards to which were attached tiny wedding rings. Cake, punch and mints were served.

Miss Mary Beth Moody came up from her work at S. M. U., Dallas, to spend the short Easter holiday at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moody. Miss Moody was accompanied by her roommate, Miss Helen Harris of Marshalltown, Iowa.

Women Answer From 12 States

To date, Touring Reporters have visited the principal cities of 12 Southern states; have asked 1297 users their famous question: "Did CARDUI help you?"

Of those 1297 users, 1206 said they were definitely benefited by CARDUI. That's 93 out of every 100. What a record! CARDUI is a good stimulator for lagging appetites, a real aid to digestion and assimilation. That's why its proper use enables so many women and girls to build up physical resistance, and thus helps them avoid the periodic pain of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

SAN JACINTO MEMORIAL TOWER TO BE UNVEILED

HOUSTON, Texas.—According to George A. Hill Jr., president of the San Jacinto Museum of History Association, patriotic societies throughout the civilized world have been invited to participate in the celebration on Texas' one hundred and third year of freedom.

It was in 1836—on April 21—that General Sam Houston won the sixteenth most decisive battle of the world's history.

On April 20 and 21, this year, the younger generation is going to do something about it.

Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, felt that there should be a fitting memorial, which he planned.

Today there stands upon the San Jacinto Battleground a shaft—larger than any masonry monument in the entire world.

The shaft was dedicated to General Sam Houston and his tiny band of patriots who wrested Texas' independence from Mexico.

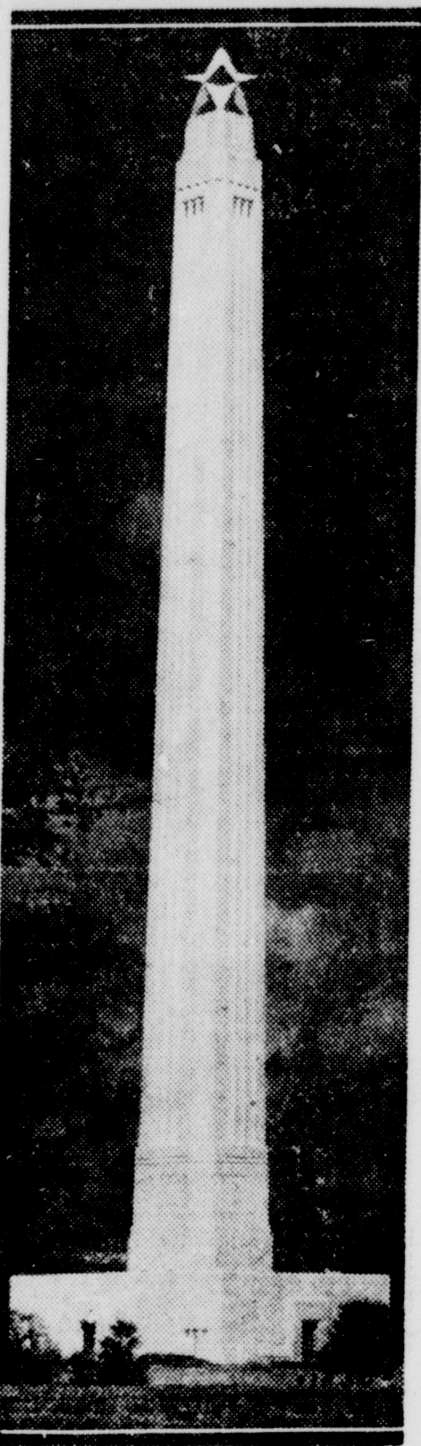

In this vast structure, whose apex is 12 feet higher than that of the Washington Monument, are to be found literally thousands of relics of Texas of yesteryear.

The San Jacinto Memorial towers 667 feet above the hallowed soil in this state park. The memorial is reinforced concrete faced with variegated golden buff Texas limestone, quarried near Austin, the state capital. Polished limestone is used for the interior, rough sawn rock for the exterior. The limestone is of shell formation and takes a high polish, which makes it appear quite similar to Travertine marble.

An idea of the immense size of this monument may be gained from a scrutiny of the huge star on its apex. This star is 35 feet high and 27 feet in breadth, and weighs 220 tons. Yet, from the ground it appears to be a mere plaything.

The foundation of this memorial was built to last through the centuries. In it are 120 carloads of gravel, 90 carloads of sand, 25 carloads of cement and 11 carloads of steel. It is 124 feet square and 15 feet thick.

The base has two broad approach terraces. One rises six feet and has a spread of 224 feet.

The base building is 124 feet square and 36 feet high. The entrance to this is through a hall of honor 44 by 45 feet, in which niches are provided for the statues of pioneer men and women who, by their courage, stamina, faith and patience, fashioned an empire state from the heritage of the Montezumas.

To the left of this hall of honor will be a museum of historical relics—a room 36 by 103 feet. The exhibits will offer wide insight into the settlement of the state as well as evidence of the deeds of heroes of the turbulent days in Texas.

Upon entering the museum, one doffs the raiment of today and travels back through the corridors of time and meets General Houston, Davey Crockett, and other of the boys who made Texas Texas.

At the right of the hall of honor is a meeting hall and art gallery of the same size as the museum hall. Here will hang portraits of the early settler of note and depictions of scenes in the state's history.

At the rear of the base is an amphitheatre seating more than 5000. On the opposite side is a lagoon wherein the shaft will be mirrored from base to tip.

Through the hall of honor a large entrance lobby leads to an elevator which will whisk visitors up through the shaft to the observation tower.

The shaft is 47 feet square at the base and tapers to 30 feet at the top. Its total weight is 70,300,000 pounds.

Mural paintings, the subjects of which have not yet been definitely decided upon, will adorn the plastered portions, above the marble finish, in the Museum of Historical Relics.

The cost of the project, not including the statuary, paintings, and exhibits, has run well over a million dollars. This cost is borne equally by the state, the Public Works Administration, the Works Progress Administration and the Federal Government through a direct grant.

Every day that the sun shines, it pushes the San Jacinto Memorial away from it, first to the west, and then toward the east.

That sounds impossible, doesn't it? But the sun's heat expands the huge stones on the side that it is shining from, causing the largest stone monument to lean away from it. The wind sways the giant shaft about two inches when it's blowing hard, but it could be swayed several feet without damage.

An idea of its actual height may be gained by one electing to climb the 850 steps leading from the basement to the observation tower. It took a young Houston athlete 15 minutes to make this journey and 10 to descend.

From the observation tower visitors can see Houston, Texas City, the Tri-Cities and many towns and hamlets.

When the shaft is dedicated, the grounds will present a picture of beauty almost unbelievable to those who remember its wood-covered hills. Many improvements already have been made. A new highway system has been built, with roadways offering easy access to the many historical monuments and markers that dot the grounds.

In the past the roads were narrow and formed an endless network which did not always pass the scenes of historical importance. The present system is a symmetrical layout.

Seventy-three large trees and 100 or more smaller ones were moved during the road-building program. None were destroyed.

McCAULEY MATTERS

By JOHN P. HARDESTY

The second rabbit drive for the community was made this week. A barbecue was served at the tabernacle Friday of last week to the "Nimrods," while a feast was enjoyed this Thursday at the farm home of Vernon Harris. To hear some of the rabbit twisters tell of their kills a great number of the "mule-eared" pests bit the dust.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Carruth were Sunday guests with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Stephenson. Mr. Carruth is in the employ of the State Liquor Control, with temporary headquarters at Abilene.

The M. L. Akins had as Easter guests their children, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McCloud, Lehman, Texas; Ikey Akins, O'Donnell; Lilly Akins, Sweetwater; Latane Akins, who has been on an extended visit with the McClouds. Alline Akins has gone to Sweetwater to work while Lilly has gone for a visit with the McClouds. Nola has returned to her work at Sweetwater.

Lester Harris and family of Abilene, visited the W. W. Faulkenberys for Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. B. F. Short visited relatives at Gorman Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Powers, teachers in the local school, visited relatives at Colorado City Sunday.

Frank and Guy Kemp, who have been working in the Lubbock section for some time, are visiting their home folk, the B. F. Kemps, for a few days. Mrs. Kemp and Fred visited in Oklahoma Saturday and Sunday.

Cecil Eivens, employed in a Lubbock bank, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Eivens and family, and friends at Hamlin the past week end.

This writer and his wife had all their children with them on Easter. The Nelson Hutto and children, of Dallas; the Homer Huttos of Lueders, the W. E. Martins, of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. John A. White, of Austin, and John Jr. Also Miss Eddis Lee, of Lueders.

There are doubtless a good many other items of interest left out because we do not have the information. You will confer a favor on us if you will hand in these to us by Tuesday afternoon each week.

Lindsey W. Adcock and Miss Altha C. Lakey were united in marriage Saturday evening at the Baptist parsonage, this writer reading the ceremony. Miss Lakey is from the Boyd Chapel community, where her mother lives, and Mr. Adcock, whose parents live in this community, is employed by the International Harvester Company, and has recently been at work in California, Sweetwater, and other places.
